“ We met Bernie and Ray in recent years only, but we'd always have such fun visits. They had a great friendship and respect for each other. We'd hear about recent mistakes either one made and we'd all have a good laugh. Bernie was a trooper-- devotedly getting up early to do yoga or stretching to improve flexibility after her stroke. He was fully supportive of her. Once when she was at the Villa I believe and he'd bring her back to the house for a Sunday afternoon, she had mixed up cookies and he'd fill the cookie sheets and bake them. He was going to serve us a good treat with some coffee-- well he couldn't figure out why they wouldn't bake right, (and let off a lingo of "choice words" --just in good humor of course), checked the oven for a burner that went out or something else wrong, (he was quite the mechanic) well, she let us in on a secret that she forgot to put in the baking soda! They will be truly missed!

“ Bernadine was never the same after losing her beloved husband. 💔 She said her rosary 🙏 everyday to assure her place in Heaven. It's comforting to know that she is now able to be with the love of her life 💕 for all eternity. Rest in peace 🙏
