“ I am so sorry for the loss of your dear Brenda. May the God of comfort give you all you need to get through this. I'm sure you look forward to the time when there will be no more death. 1Corinthians 15:26 assures us "As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing." How very reassuring that someday we will not ever have the fear of whom of our loved ones will leave us. Even more comforting is that God's word promises we can have the opportunity to be reunited with those we have already lost. It reassures us that soon the earth will be restored into the paradise earth that our first human parents lost for us. Please be assured that God does not like to see us in pain especially over death. Ezekiel 18:32 says "For I do not take any delight in the death of someone dying, is the utterance of the Sovereign Lord.." If you would like to learn more about this future promise and see the scriptural backing for this please go to JW.org. Again I am deeply sorry for your loss.

“ *Billy, Richard, Tommy, and Keith,
I am so very Sorry about your mother, she was YOUR mother and I know at times she did not feel well, and as I think about losing my own mother, I am saddened once again because I know that you will have to go through so many days, that you wish you could just call MOM, or stop by for a chat, or just knowing she will be the one to comfort you.*

I pray that all of you boys, whom she LOVED so DEARLY will find a way to carry on, knowing that a MOTHER would want you to carry on and in doing so you will keep her memory alive..Please know that I am praying for all of you..and so so sorry.

With Sincere Sympathy and Love,

Lori Erickson

I am so sad to hear about Brenda's passing. Far too young. Losing my mother when she only 44 was really hard. We somehow find a way to go on, but we never forget what we have lost. I pray for her family, that they too will find their way to get through this hard time in their lives. She is now an angel watching over all of them. Prayers and condolences to all of you.
