He'd always have a joke or kind word for everyone, his preference in life was to love openly and with great humor. He was a constant learner and an artist. He made many beautiful pieces of beadwork. He also enjoyed playing video games and reading. He loved to be out in nature, he enjoyed a great spiritual relationship with the world. James was a loving father and always kept his children first in his heart.

He is survived by his mother, Colleen Michele Johnson; brother, Bruce Corvin Alger Jr.; sister Millissa (Wayne) Kingbird; beloved children, Quincey DeFoe, Janessa Eagle Alger, Karli Nayquonabe, Janiya, Elicia, Michael, and James Alger Jr. He is also survived by many great aunts and uncles, cousins and friends.
