“ Uncle Joe was so much fun to be around and he made me feel so welcome when I went to visit him. His good-natured and friendly personality will be greatly missed, as well as his bright smile and lovely voice. It hurts that I won't be able to see him again when I travel to Minnesota. One of my most interesting memories is when I was young and he used to pay me and the kids to pick bugs off of the plants in the garden. We received a certain amount of money for each one and when there were a lot gathered he would put them in a tin can, along with some gasoline, and then light them on fire. :)

“ I haven't seen Joe, since he came out to Utah with his family in the late 70's. But he was my favorite uncle. I enjoyed visiting in his home on the banks of the Mississippi River when I was a kid. There was always a lot of family around that I didn't get to see often enough to get to know. I wish I could have seen him more as we all aged. My condolences to all those who knew him and loved him.
