Jesse, now deceased, was 19 at the time. When they were raising the kids, they would sometimes load them in the car and bring them to wrestling shows or take a car ride to the city to go out to eat. All of Maggie's kids knew how to gather birch bark and helped make tiny birch bark canoes. For many decades, Maggie made blankets for her family to use at ceremonial dances. There was no design too difficult. She has been sought out for years to be the maker of blankets. Maggie made her own medallion beadwork design as well. She liked to spend her time playing bingo, traveling, and visiting all her grandchildren.
