“ Mary and I shared a corn husking machine at Birds Eye one summer. It was my first job. Her kindness and humor kept me coming to work.

“ Mary was my 4th grade teacher at St. Mary’s school. I had taken guitar lessons and played with her once during church. I wasn’t nearly as good as her but she was very patient. I had always called her Miss Erwin and after she married Roger it was Mrs. Blake. When I was older and saw her in Walmart I said, “Hi Mrs. Blake.” She said, “Oh Sheila, you’re an adult now. You can call me Mary.” Rest in Heavenly peace, Mary!

Is this the Mary Blake that taught at Sacred Heart Catholic School in Staples? I thank God for how she helped our son, Michael, when he was in her third grade class. I got a chance to thank her in person at Bernie St. Pierre’s funeral. May you rest in peace Mary!

Just discovered belatedly about Mary's death. We were best friends during our childhood and adolescent years. Our families socialized and we often spent time sleeping over at each other's homes. Spent lots of time horseback riding as we both had horses. I feel sad about her death and guilty that I did not stay in close touch during her final illness. She will continue to be missed.
