Nona Friestad was born November 3, 1922 at St. Luke's Hospital in Duluth, Minnesota to the late Anker and Marie (Beckman) Friestad. In 1986, she moved to St. Camillus Place in Little Falls. Every day, she would watch "The Price Is Right" and "Young and the Restless", and loved watching Bob Barker give away those fancy cars. She also had a passion for music, playing both piano and the fiddle. Nona enjoyed sewing and finger knitting, especially with her favorite color red. Nona also had a sweet tooth. She loved to bake anything sweet, but her favorite was peanut brittle. Nona loved to go to the Little Falls Senior Center for donuts and coffee. She was particular about looking good, and enjoyed shopping for new blouses, and always carried dollar bills in her purse. Every year, Nona would take a trip to Tamarack, Minnesota to visit her cousins, Gene and Maureen. They would drink root beer and eat chicken on the bone, and reminisce about her younger years, when she would shop at dime stores and her father's furniture store. Nona also enjoyed peace and quiet, and spent many hours listening to the waterfall in the backyard and overlooking the garden. She was a member of First United Church and former member of the Lioness Club, both in Little Falls.

Nona is survived by cousins, Gene and Maureen Boyes of Tamarack, MN; and friends and caregivers at St. Camillus Place.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Anker and Marie; and brother, Teddy.
